Sub: Permission for commence of Value-added Course.

Respected Sir,

The department of Mathematics would like to inaugurate the value Added course entitle Basic Mathematical Concepts of 30 hour duration, introduced in 2018-19, for B. Sc. 1st year students to understand the basic concept in Mathematics and advanced learning. Hence, it is requested your Kind-Self to grant Permission.

Thanking You!

Syllabus

Number Theory and Logics (Basic Mathematical Concepts)

Unit I

Basic concept of set theory: Cartesian product of sets, Relation and its properties, Function, Types of functions, Natural numbers, Integers and rational numbers, Real numbers.

Unit II

Sequences and series: Arithmetic progression, Geometric progression, Harmonic progression, Infinite Series, Convergence of infinite series, Mathematical Induction.

Unit III

Numbers: Prime numbers, Divisors, GCD, Fundamental theorem of arithmetic, Euclidean algorithm, Euler phi-function and its application, Chinese-Remainder theorem.

Unit IV

Logic: Proposition and statements, Truth Table, Logical operators, Arguments, Normal forms, Boolean Algebra, Boolean identities, Disjunctive conjunctive normal forms.

Unit V

Logic 2: Application of Boolean Algebra in switching circuits, Logic gates, Properties of Logic gates, Fuzzy sets and its operations, Algebraic operations on fuzzy sets, Applications of fuzzy sets.

Leadership Development

I. Integrity

Integrity is an essential leadership trait for the individual and the organization. It's especially important for top-level executives who are charting the organization's course and making countless other significant decisions., so make sure your organization reinforces the importance of honesty and integrity to leaders at various levels.

2. Delegation

Delegating is one of the core responsibilities of a leader, but it can be tricky to delegate effectively. The goal isn't just to free yourself up — it's also to enable your direct reports to grow, facilitate teamwork, provide autonomy, and lead to better decision-making. The best leaders..

3. Communication

The best leaders are skilled communicators who are able to communicate in a variety of ways, from transmitting information to inspiring others to coaching direct reports. And you must be able to listen to, and communicate with, a wide range of people across roles, geographies, social identities, and more. The quality and effectiveness of communication among leaders across your organization directly affects the success of your business strategy, too. Learn how effective communication.

4. Self-Awareness

While this is a more inwardly focused trait, self-awareness and humility are paramount for leadership. The better you understand yourself and recognize your own strengths and weaknesses, the more effective you can be as a leader. Do you know how other people view you or how you show up at work? Take the time to learn about .

5. Gratitude

Being thankful can lead to higher self-esteem, reduced depression and anxiety, and better sleep. Gratitude can even make you a better leader. Yet few people regularly say "thank you" in work settings, even though most people say they'd be willing to work harder for an appreciative boss.

6. Learning Agility

Learning agility is the ability to know what to do when you don't know what to do. If you're a "quick study" or are able to excel in unfamiliar circumstances, you might already be learning agile. But anybody can foster and increase learning agility through practice and experiences . After all, great leaders are really great learners.

7. Influence

For some people, "influence" feels like a dirty word. But being able to convince people through the influence tactics of logic is an important trait of inspiring, effective leaders. Influence is quite different from manipulation, and it needs to be done authentically and transparently. It requires emotional intelligence and trust. Learn more about how effective influence

8. Empathy

Empathy is correlated with job performance and is a critical part of emotional intelligence. If you show more inclusive leadership and empathetic behaviors toward your direct reports, our research shows you're more likely to be viewed as a better performer by your boss. Plus, Empathy for improving workplace conditions for those around you.

9. Courage

It can be hard to speak up at work, whether you want to voice a new idea, provide feedback to a direct report, or flag a concern for someone above you. That's part of the reason courage is a key trait of good leaders. Rather than avoiding problems or allowing conflicts to fester, having courage enables leaders to step up and move things in the right direction. A workplace with high levels of psychological safety and strong conversational skills across the organization .

10. Respect

Treating people with respect on a daily basis is one of the most important things a leader can do. It will ease tensions and conflict, create trust, and improve effectiveness. creating respect is about more than the absence of disrespect. Respectfulness can be shown in many different ways, but it often starts with simply Being good lisner who truly seeks to understand the perspectives of others.

Time Management Skills

Time Management skills take time to develop and will look different for each person. It helps individuals to make the best use of time and complete the tasks within the specified period.

- Planning :
Good time management starts with good planning skills. It's very hard to manage your day or week if you don't have good planning skills.
With proper planning skills, you must be able to imagine what needs to be done and prioritise the most important tasks.
- Decision Making and Prioritisation :
The point of a plan is not only to imagine how things should be performed but also to decide about the priorities.
If you want to be good at time management, you must be in control of your time.

- Setting Boundaries and Saying No :
Setting very clear boundaries can help to get things done more efficiently and effectively.
Saying no is one of the most important skills in time management.
- Delegating and Outsourcing Tasks :
Delegating tasks is about leveraging other's task. Delegating is a very important step in being a master of time management.
- Setting Boundaries and Saying No. :
Setting very clear boundaries can help you to get things done more efficiently and effectively.
Saying no is one of the most important skills I time management.
Delegating tasks is about leveraging other's task. Delegating is a very important step in being a master of time management.
Outsourcing tasks greatly contributes to your leadership skills and personal development.
- Build a system and Diligently Following it :
When you learn how to plan, prioritise and so on, it sooner or later wakes up the need for a coherent and complete time management system.
You have to build a system for yourself and constantly improving it.

Time Managements Techniques

Time Managements refers to the judicious use of time for achieving success in life. The Management helps an individual to make the best possible use of time. It is essential for individuals to value to time and allocate the right time to the right activity.

- Set your Priorities :
Prepare a "TO DO" list or a "Task Plan" to write down tasks you need to complete against the time period assigned to each activity, high priority tasks must be written on top followed by tasks which can be done a little later, and make sure you stick to your task list.
- Stay Focused :
While doing an urgent task, do not leave your work station, going for scrolls in the middle of an argent work breaks continuity and makes you lose focus.
- Set Realistic Targets :
Know what you need to achieve and in what duration. Assigning one hour to a task which you know would require much mor time is illogical
- Be Disciplined and Punctual :
Avoid taking unnecessary leaves from work, as well as reach work on the time as it helps you to plan your day better.
- Be Organised :
Keep things at their proper places. Files must be kept at their respective drawers. Stables your important documents as well as put them in a proper folded.

Value Added Course : Basic Electronics BE01

Course Duration : 30 Hours

Course Objectives :-

After completion of the course students will be able to

- Describe the construction, Principle, application and performance characteristics of Diode, Transistor, Resistance and Capacitance.
- Understand the basic of electronics.
- Construct power supply.
- Test the basic electronics components
- Self-employment.

Course Organization:-

Type of Class	Duration (in Hour/Week)	Total Hours
Theory	2 Hours 15 min.	18 Hours
Practical	3 Hours	12 Hours

Unit - I

Semiconductor: Introduction to semiconductor, Types of semiconductor, Doping in semiconductor, P-type and N-type Semiconductor, Energy band gap diagram of semiconductor.

P-N Junction Diode: P N Junction diode, Diode rating and specification, Diode testing, Ideal diode characteristic, Diode fabrication, Diode circuit with ac and dc voltage sources.

Types of Diode: Introduction to Zener diode, Zener diode as voltage regulator, Zener diode as peak clipper, Introduction to Light Emitting Diode, Application of LED, Photovoltaic devices, Photodiode and application.
